GARMIN EARNS BEST SUPPLIER RECOGNITION FROM EMBRAER FOR 9TH CONSECUTIVE YEAR

News / Business aviation, Manufacturer

Garmin received a Best Supplier award for the ninth consecutive year by Embraer at its annual Suppliers Conference held April 30 in Gavião Peixoto, Brazil. Embraer, a leading aerospace manufacturer, recognized Garmin as the top supplier in the Electrical & Electronic Systems category for its G3000 Prodigy Touch flight deck systems in the Phenom 100EV and Phenom 300E.

Phil Straub, Garmin Executive Vice President & Managing Director, Aviation commented: “It is an honor to be recognized as the Best Supplier from Embraer. This prestigious award represents the strong collaboration between Embraer and Garmin and is a testament to Garmin’s long-term dedication to Embraer and our mutual customers. We are truly grateful to receive this award recognizing the entire organization’s commitment to on-time delivery, quality, and customer support.”

This annual award program honors an elite group of suppliers for their outstanding performance, continuous improvement and increased customer satisfaction among all suppliers who serve Embraer’s global commercial aviation, business aviation and defense markets. This recognition
