MAGNETIC MRO ESTABLISHES OFFICE IN LONDON, UK

News / Maintenance / Trainings

Total Technical Care MRO organization Magnetic MRO (www.magneticmro.com) establishes sales and engineering office in London, United Kingdom.

The new office, located in Kensington, will be operational from October 1st, 2015, hosting Magnetic MRO sales and engineering teams in one centralized London location.

‘Magnetic MRO is growing rapidly together with a number of Western European operators, thus we consider it key to be closer to our customers in their home markets’, says Jonas Butautis, CEO of Magnetic MRO. ‘Our new London office is the first step in expanding Magnetic MRO operations in the UK, with planned warehouses and MRO activities to follow in the near future. These steps will enable Magnetic MRO to be more agile, flexible, and focused on Western European operators in their respective markets. At the same time, local presence will give our company a unique chance to tap into a strong pool of UK aviation professionals’.

Driven by rapid organic growth and acquisitions, Magnetic MRO is offering a suite of total technical care outsourcing solutions for airlines and asset owners. The range of services offered to UK and
