LUXAVIATION PARTNERS WITH MEDAIRE FOR BEST-IN-CLASS OPERATIONAL SECURITY SOLUTIONS

News / Business aviation

Luxaviation, one of the largest private aircraft operators worldwide, is today announcing it has selected MedAire's operational security solution to ensure best-in-class safety and risk management services for its fleet of 270 aircraft.

Luxaviation, dedicated to service excellence, selected MedAire after appraising the market with an extensive tender utilising a 20-point criteria matrix. MedAire will provide travel security information, analysis and assessment as well as 24/7 global assistance as part of a comprehensive security solution.

The agreement provides real-time travel security reporting about destinations, regions, airspace and airports that is thoroughly vetted and analysed by aviation experts. In addition to information, the aviation security team is available round the clock for advice and assistance to respond to security risks, events and threats as needed.

Patrick Hansen, CEO, Luxaviation Group says: "MedAire best met all of our criteria with the necessary breadth, depth and scope required to support our global business. MedAire provides us with complete and integrated solutions including information, analysis and on the ground assistance as a response capability."

Key differentiators for MedAire are its leading assistance capabilities and strong global footprint, including the expertise of 2,300 security personnel located throughout the world wherever clients need to travel. MedAire is the aviation arm of International SOS, the world's largest assistance company, and has more than 30 years experience as a leading travel safety provider for business aviation.

MedAire CEO, Bill Dolny, commented: "Luxaviation has one of the most stringent safety standards in the industry, and we are excited about the opportunity to work together to provide a best-in-class security solution that will add value to the high quality of their operation."
