SAUDI INTERNATIONAL AIRSHOW WELCOMES AMMROC

News / Events / Festivals

With less than two weeks until the start of the inaugural Saudi International Airshow, organisers have announced that AMMROC, has joined the growing line up of sponsors for the new event. Headquartered in Abu Dhabi, UAE, Advanced Military Maintenance Repair and Overhaul Centre (AMMROC) is a leading provider of military aircraft maintenance, repair and overhaul services across the South Asia, Middle East and North Africa (SAMENA) region supporting more than 35 fixed and rotary wing aircraft types.

As a joint venture company owned by Emirates Defence Industries Company (EDIC), Lockheed Martin Corporation and Sikorsky Aerospace Services (A Lockheed Martin Company) the AMMROC participation demonstrates the value of the Saudi Airshow in connecting the international aviation and aerospace industries with Saudi Arabia.

With the addition of AMMROC to the sponsorship roster organisers are also confirming that some 80 aircraft are booked for the static display, more than 200 exhibitors are signed up, and registrations stand at over 13, 000 representing visitors from some 50 countries. Situated just outside of Riyadh, Thumamah Airport, the 2019 show will connect the world's aviation experts and industry players to Saudi Arabia. The event has been organised in response to a huge demand from leading regional industry professionals and will be the first in a series which will take place over the next five years.

Saudi International Airshow, which will debut from the 12th to the 14th of March 2019 at Thumamah Airport, Riyadh, will be the first aviation & aerospace exhibition of its kind in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Exhibitors and delegates from across the world will be welcomed to Thumamah Airport which will be dedicated solely to the exhibition.

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.

Saudi Airshow will host a mix of business, general, commercial aviation and aerospace exhibitors on a 100,000 sqm static area which will accommodate more than 80 aircraft ranging in size from single-engine and executive jets to commercial wide body aircraft. The show will offer chalets located next to the runway to enable manufacturers to present their entire range of aircraft and to facilitate demonstration flights. In addition, exhibition hall will host more than 200 booths, national and international pavilions where exhibitors will showcase a full range of aviation and aerospace services and products.

04 MARCH 2019

ARTICLE LINK:
https://50skyshades.com/index.php/news/events-festivals/saudi-international-airshow-welcomes-ammroc

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.