

AIR INDIA ENGINEERS THREATEN TO DRAG MANAGEMENT TO COURT

News / Airlines

STUDENTS WORKING ON A CESSNA 152 AT HIET
www.TheFlyingEngineer.com

NEW DELHI: A section of Air India Engineers have threatened to take the airline management to court if it does not reverse its decision to absorb 50 odd Air India Express (AIE) engineers into subsidiary AIESL on the ground that the move would adversely impact their career prospects.

Air India Engineering Services Ltd (AIESL) currently has 900 aircraft maintenance engineers (AME) with 500 of them from erstwhile Indian Airlines (narrow-body fleet) and the rest from Air India (wide-body). The protesting AMEs are from erstwhile Indian Airlines, sources said.

On the other hand, Air India Express has a total of around 105 engineers. Of these 55 are of Air India Express itself and the remaining 50 on deputation from Air India.

..

20 SEPTEMBER 2015

SOURCE: ECONOMICTIMES

ARTICLE LINK:

<https://50skyshades.com/index.php/news/airlines/air-india-engineers-threaten-to-drag-management-to-court>