EMBRAER KC-390 MILLENNIUM SUCCESSFULLY CONCLUDES COLD WEATHER CAMPAIGN IN SWEDEN

News / Manufacturer

Embraer announced the successful completion of an intensive cold?weather demonstration campaign of the KC?390 Millennium in Sweden. Conducted at the Vidsel Test Range military facility, the operation showcased the aircraft's exceptional performance, highlighting its capability to operate in Arctic conditions and support Agile Combat Employment concepts.

During this cold?weather campaign, the crew quickly started the aircraft's engines and systems before performing short takeoffs and landings. The KC?390 also demonstrated its ability to rapidly load and deploy heavy vehicles, such as the SISU GTT military all?terrain vehicles, while still retaining space for troops and additional equipment. This performance confirms the KC?390's perfect suitability for missions requiring high logistical responsiveness in demanding environments.

Bosco da Costa Junior, President and CEO, Embraer Defense & Security commented: “The KC-390 Millennium demonstrated once again its versatility and its ability to successfully perform the most demanding missions under the toughest conditions, all with 100% reliability. This next-generation aircraft, which is fully compatible with the Agile Combat Employment concept, represents an unbeatable combination for operations in Northern Europe and the Arctic.”

The KC-390 Millennium stands out as the most capable aircraft in its class, engineered to perform complex missions in the most demanding environments. Designed and built in the 21st century to withstand current and future threats, this medium multi-mission airlift and tanker jet delivers superior performance, operational flexibility, and cost efficiency. Its capabilities include aerial refueling, Agile Combat Employment, and rapid response across a wide range of mission profiles.
