PRINCE AVIATION INAUGURAL DEBUT AT AIR CHARTER EXPO 2025

News / Business aviation, Events / Festivals

Prince Aviation successfully completed their inaugural participation at the prestigious Air Charter Expo 2025. The centerpiece of Prince Aviation's static display participation was the company's own Cessna Citation XLS+, which served as a showcase for demonstrating the organization's comprehensive service offering and midsize fleet capability. The aircraft on display attracted attention from both existing and potential clients, providing a tangible demonstration of the company's commitment to quality and excellence in charter aviation services.

The company's charter and operations sales teams engaged directly with industry professionals, providing an invaluable opportunity for face-to-face networking with friends, clients, and prospective partners. Throughout the event, Prince Aviation representatives engaged with a diverse range of industry stakeholders, including charter operators, ground handling providers, aviation brokers, specialized airport service providers, and fuel suppliers. These interactions provided valuable insights into market trends and emerging opportunities within the aviation sector. The company's participation culminated in a particularly productive meeting with representatives from the UK Civil Aviation Authority.

Boban Jari?, Ground Operations Manager commented: "Our Citation XLS+ was more than just a display piece – it was a testament to our operational capabilities and the quality standards that define Prince Aviation. Having our own aircraft on display allowed us to showcase not just what we offer, but how we deliver excellence in every aspect of our operations. The response from visitors was overwhelmingly positive, and it reinforced our decision to invest in this level of industry engagement. This experience has validated our belief in the power of in-person industry events.There's simply no substitute for face-to-face interaction when it comes to building trust, understanding client needs, and showcasing our capabilities. We're already planning our participation in future industry events based on the success we've achieved here."

Ognjan Ognjanovi?, Sales Operations stated: "The quality of connections we made at ACE25 exceeded our expectations. From exploring new partnership opportunities with ground handling providers to discussing innovative approaches with aviation brokers, every conversation added value to our business development efforts."

The successful ACE25 participation has reinforced Prince Aviation's strategic commitment to maintaining a strong presence at key industry events. The company's approach of being approachable, communicative, and always ready for business resonated well with event attendees
