BOEING ACHIEVES STRONG DELIVERY NUMBERS IN 2016, AIRPLANE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS REACH MILESTONES

News / Manufacturer

748 airplane deliveries

668 net orders

Boeing recorded strong commercial delivery numbers in 2016 and achieved several airplane program milestones. The company delivered 748 commercial airplanes.

Boeing booked 668 net orders, valued at $94.1 billion at list prices. The backlog at the end of the year stood at 5,715 unfilled commercial orders.

Airplane development programs continued to make progress in 2016. Key milestones for the year included the first flight of the 737 MAX, the opening of the 777X Composite Wing Center in Everett, Wash., and start of 787-10 final assembly in North Charleston, S.C.

Orders, deliveries and unfilled orders for 2016 by program are as follows:

Family	Gross Orders	Net Orders	Deliveries	Unfilled orders

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.

737	701	550	490	4452
747	18	17	9	28
767	26	26	13	93
777	23	17	99	442
787	80	58	137	700
Total	848	668	748	5,715

A detailed report is available on Boeing's Orders and Deliveries website.

07 JANUARY 2017

ARTICLE LINK:
https://50skyshades.com/news/manufacturer/boeing-achieves-strong-delivery-numbers-in-2016-airplane-development-programs-reach-milestones

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.