

BOSTON FOR 99€ WITH PRIMERA AIR

News / Airlines

Primera Air, the low-cost Nordic airline, has just launched an exclusive offer for their Paris – Boston route with limited fares available for 99€ one way or 185€ for a round trip. Lucky travellers will be able to fly at an ultra competitive fare to the capital and biggest town of Massachusetts, and discover this town often overshadowed by it's East Coast neighbours.

With its very American Downtown, its colonial vestiges with the picturesque gas streetlights and Little Italy alive and full of charm, the city does not miss assets! Founded in 1630, it is one of the oldest cities in the United States. The determining role that the city played in the American revolution is marked by the Freedom Trail – a 4km red line which allows visitors to discover historic sites redrawing the history of the city.

Those looking to snap these special fares will need to be quick as only 50 tickets will be available in total. The fares will be sold on a first come first served basis and are valid for travel between September and October 2018.

Tickets are available now and can be booked via <https://primeraair.fr/>

Primera Air is a low-fare Nordic airline that operates flights from Europe to more than 70 destinations across the Mediterranean, Middle East, Asia, Caribbean and North America. Originally founded in Iceland in 2003 as JetX, a charter provider, Primera Air has grown to become an airline that now carries over one million passengers each year with a fleet of eight Airbus A321NEO and ten Boeing 737NG planes.

Primera Air is now owned by the Primera Travel Group, a group of Scandinavian tour operators and travel agencies.

In 2018, Primera Air expanded its network by establishing new bases at London Stansted and Paris Charles De Gaulle and will be providing direct low-fare transatlantic flights to New York, Boston, and Toronto.
