ETIHAD AIRWAYS CELEBRATES 15 YEARS BY COMMEMORATING ITS FIRST COMMERCIAL FLIGHT AND WITH HUMAN MOSAIC

News / Airlines

Etihad Airways, the national airline of the UAE, today marked 15 years since its inaugural commercial flight to Beirut on 12 November 2003.

In a fitting tribute to the first flight, guests travelling on flight EY535 to the Lebanese capital enjoyed a cake-cutting ceremony at the departure gate this morning.

The airline also presented each guest with a limited-edition cabin crew scarf and tie set, designed by iconic fashion designer Diane von Furstenberg, while younger flyers were gifted Etihad teddy bears by cabin crew wearing the airline's first ever uniform from 2003, in addition to its current style.

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.

More than 400 employees from Etihad Airways Engineering and Etihad Technical teams gathered together to celebrate the 15 Year Anniversary of Etihad Airways, with a human mosaic photographed in front of one of the airline's Airbus A380s at the Etihad Airways Engineering facility at Abu Dhabi International Airport.

13 NOVEMBER 2018

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.

ARTICLE LINK:
https://50skyshades.com/index.php/news/airlines/etihad-airways-celebrates-15-years-by-commemorating-its-first-commercial-flight-and-with-human-mosaic

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.