

SPIRIT AIRLINES, PASSENGER TRAFFIC GROWS BY 26.7% IN AUGUST, 2015

News / Airlines

Spirit Airlines reported its preliminary traffic results for August 2015.

Traffic (revenue passenger miles) in August 2015 increased 26.7 percent versus August 2014 on a capacity (available seat miles) increase of 31.7 percent. Load factor for August 2015 was 86.2 percent, a decrease of 3.4 percentage points compared to August 2014. Contributing to this decrease was the shift of the Labor Day holiday. Last year, August load factor benefited from peak outbound travel related to the Labor Day holiday. This year, both the peak outbound and return travel related to Labor Day occurred in September.

Spirit's preliminary systemwide completion factor for August 2015 was 99.1 percent.

11 SEPTEMBER 2015

SOURCE: AEROTIME

ARTICLE LINK:

<https://50skyshades.com/index.php/news/airlines/spirit-airlines-passenger-traffic-grows-by-267-in-august-2015>