

GULF AIR GOES DAILY TO HYDERABAD

News / Airports / Routes

Gulf Air will increase its flights between Bahrain and Hyderabad from five weekly flights to daily flights from December 2, 2015 to meet high passenger demand.

Catering to over 5 million Indian nationals residing in the Arabian Gulf region, Gulf Air has provided direct air services between India and Bahrain since 1960. With one of the largest Middle East networks, Bahrain's national carrier is well positioned to link regional travelers to Hyderabad and allow seamless movement from the Indian city to several key regional and European destinations with excellent connectivity via Bahrain International Airport.

Gulf Air's acting chief commercial officer, Ahmed Janahi said: "Gulf Air's increased Hyderabad service will mean a greater connection to one of our national carrier's newest and most successful routes. We are always looking to satisfy the high demand to and from Hyderabad and cater to passenger needs on this popular route. With daily flights between Bahrain and Hyderabad we are offering enhanced schedule flexibility for our travellers.”

18 NOVEMBER 2015

SOURCE: ARABIANAEROSPACE

ARTICLE LINK:

<https://50skyshades.com/index.php/news/airports-routes/gulf-air-goes-daily-to-hyderabad>