9. Paris-Le Bourget Airport, France

Founded: 1919

Passengers: general aviation traffic only.

The French capital's only airport until work began on Paris-Orly in 1932, Le Bourget is where Hitler began his one and only tour of Paris in June 1940. It closed to international traffic in 1977 and regional traffic in 1980, but hosts the Paris Air Show every two years. Pictured here is Charles Lindbergh.

8. Amsterdam Airport Schiphol, The Netherlands

Founded: 1916

Passengers: 58,284,864 (2015)

The busiest of the world's elderly airports, Amsterdam Schiphol was established as a military airbase in 1916 and has been used by civilian aircraft since 1920.

7. ~~Image~~ Ciampino Airport, Italy

Founded: 1916

Passengers: 5,834,201 (2015)

Opened in 1916 and here seen welcoming Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh, Ciampino suffered decades of stagnation following the opening of Leonardo da Vinci-Fiumicino Airport in 1960, but was revitalised by low-cost carriers. Ryanair now operates almost every service to and from the airport - Wizz Air the remainder.

6. ~~Image~~ Don Mueang International Airport, Bangkok, Thailand

Founded: 1914

Passengers: 9,170,681 (2015)

A major US command hub during the Vietnam War, Don Mueang was closed for several months in 2011 due to flooding.
