

ASIA JET WINS BEST CHARTER BROKERAGE AWARD FOR 2015 AT ASBAA

News / Business aviation

Asia Jet won the “Best Charter Brokerage Award” 2015 at the inaugural Asian Business Aviation Association (AsBAA) charity gala dinner and industry awards.

The charity gala dinner and industry awards was held in aid of Orbis, the Flying Eye Hospital Charity. The event was hosted on the 6th November 2015 at Hullett House TST, Hong Kong.

The awards nomination and selection process is an independent program, judged by members of the Business Aviation Industry within the Asia Region.

Asia Jet has operated a charter brokerage department in Hong Kong since 2008, and has since grown rapidly. The company now has offices in Shanghai and Malaysia, specialising in both on and off fleet charter, around the globe.

“To be recognised by our peers at AsBAA as the “Best Charter Brokerage of the Year” in Asia is an outstanding achievement and a proud moment for the Asia Jet team.”

Mike Walsh, CEO of Asia Jet said: “To be recognised by our peers at AsBAA as the “Best Charter Brokerage of the Year” in Asia is an outstanding achievement and a proud moment for the Asia Jet team. The business aviation market in Greater China & SE Asia is very competitive and there are important global and international players across the region, so winning this prestigious award as voted by the regional industry is a great honor and we will strive to keep exceeding clients expectations.”

AsBAA annual awards for 2015 were presented in 14 different categories. Other winners from the 2015 AsBAA charity gala dinner include Jetcraft, Jet Asia Pacific, TAG Aviation, Universal Weather & Aviation, Hawker Pacific – Shanghai, Jenny Lau, UBS, Jet Aviation Seletar, Universal Aviation Japan and Gulfstream.
