CLAY LACY GROWS SOUTH FLORIDA CHARTER FLEET AT PALM BEACH INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

News / Business aviation

A Bombardier Challenger 350 has joined Clay Lacy Aviation's South Florida private jet charter fleet. Based at Palm Beach International Airport (KPBI), this super-midsize Challenger 350 offers domestic Wi-Fi, Gogo Vision catalog of the latest movies and TV shows and satellite phone. With a nonstop range of 3,200 nautical miles, it is ideal for flights in the U.S., Canada, Caribbean, Mexico, and Central and South America. Jet charter clients will enjoy Clay Lacy's legendary Inflight personal service and value the company's Clean Check Health and Safety Standard. This Challenger 350 joins a Bombardier Global 6000 ultra-long-range jet, also at Palm Beach International Airport, and a second Challenger 350, based at Miami-Opa Locka Executive Airport (KOPF).
