

HADID AND BCAA ANNOUNCE STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP

News / Business aviation

Hadid International Services and Bermuda Civil Aviation Authority announced the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding that launches their strategic partnership. By harnessing their extensive experience and established reputations within the aviation industry, the two organisations aim to enhance the convenience and efficiency of their services for global clientele, particularly those involved in operations to Bermuda or contemplating offshore registration in the territory.

Through this collaboration, the BCAA and HADID will pool their knowledge and resources to offer operators an elevated and more seamless experience. Providing exceptional customer service is a priority for both organisations, with an emphasis on discretion and stringent regulatory compliance. They focus on offering tailored solutions and share the common goal of exceeding customer expectations. This strategic partnership promises to be a win-win-win for HADID, the BCAA and their customers.

Mohamad Hadid, Chairman of HADID commented: “This MOU serves as a testament to the commitment of both HADID and the BCAA to fostering excellence in customer service and strengthening our roles in the aviation industry. By leveraging our combined expertise and longevity, we strive to strengthen our long-term sustainability and create lasting benefits for our respective customer bases.”

Thomas Dunstan, Director General of the BCAA stated: “The BCAA’s vision has always been to attain the highest international standards of civil aviation while maintaining a sustainable aircraft registry. Our commitment to our customers drives our efforts to explore collaborative opportunities with industry partners like HADID who align with our values. This, in turn, enables us to provide an enhanced experience to our existing and prospective clients.”
