

JET AVIATION BASEL SUPPORTS PRO LINE 21 UPGRADES

News / Business aviation

Jet Aviation Basel recently installed two Rockwell Collins Pro Line 21 Avionic upgrades: one on a Dassault Falcon 2000; the other on a Dassault Falcon 2000EX.

The company has also developed a Pro Line 21 support kit to reduce expected downtime of such installations to six weeks.

“With our Pro Line 21 support kit, we demonstrate our engineering and manufacturing capabilities and our ability to adapt new technologies efficiently.”

Johannes Turzer, senior vice president and general manager of the Maintenance Centre in Basel said: “With our Pro Line 21 support kit, we demonstrate our engineering and manufacturing capabilities and our ability to adapt new technologies efficiently. Reducing required time for supply chain processes clearly benefits our clients by enabling a shorter installation.”
