

STRATAJET OFFERS EMBRAER LEGACY 500 FOR CHARTER THROUGH CENTRELINE PARTNERSHIP

News / Business aviation

Now customers of Stratajet can charter the only UK registered Embraer Legacy 500.

Flights on the Legacy 500 can be booked thanks to Stratajet's partnership with Centreline.

The addition of the Legacy 500 expands the availability of the aircraft management and charter company's fleet to nine aircraft on Stratajet.com. The brand new nine-seat jet was added to the Centreline fleet in March 2016.

"The team at Centreline are renowned for their customer service and are held in high regard across the industry."

Jonny Nicol, Stratajet founder & CEO said: "The team at Centreline are renowned for their customer service and are held in high regard across the industry. The company's fleet and experience have always been welcome on our platform and allow our customers to further tailor their travel to match their needs. The Legacy 500 is a particularly exciting new inclusion to the ever-increasing range of options open to our users. We look forward to continuing our relationship with Centreline in the coming years as we strive to bring private jet travel to a wider audience across Europe."

Phil Brockwell, commercial director of Centreline Air added: "Much like Stratajet we are growing at a considerable rate. By adding the Legacy 500 to the Stratajet platform we hope to offer our customers even more flexibility to ensure all their needs are met swiftly and simply. It's an exciting time for Centreline and we believe Stratajet will continue to contribute to our expansion."
