

THIS RETIRING BOEING 747 IS THE MOST EXPENSIVE MODEL PLANE ON EBAY

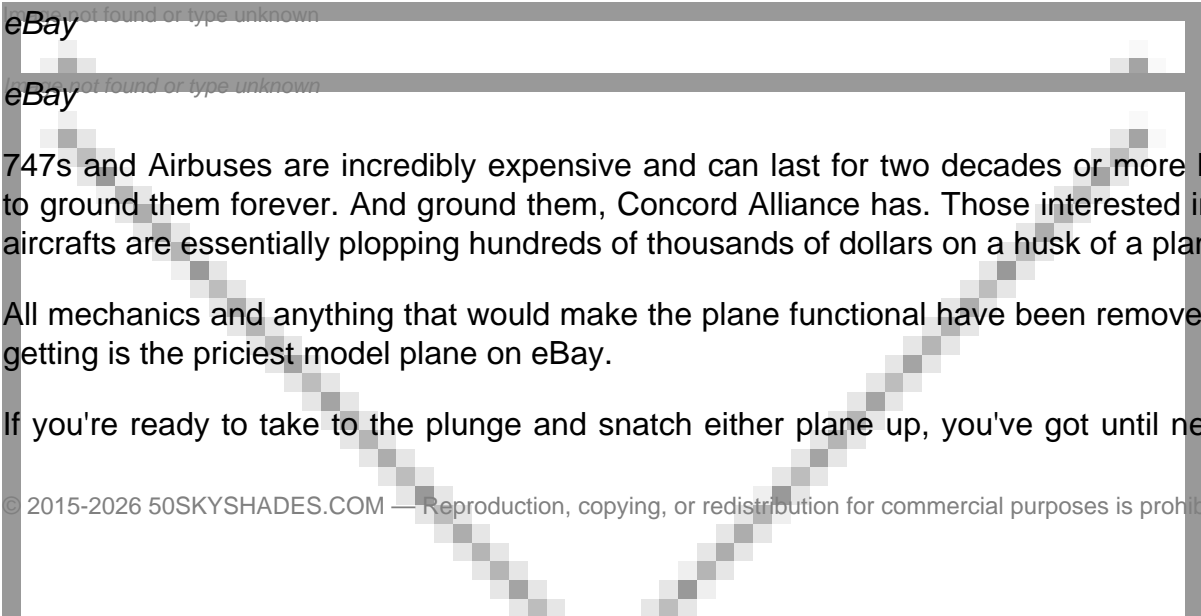

News / Events / Festivals

You can sell damn near anything on eBay these days. Sure, the auction site won't take your magic weed hat, but bidders will happily snap up your discarded soda tabs and fucked up t-shirts.

eBay will also take your airplane, no matter what condition it's in. The Concord Alliance is proving this odd but true point with its offering of two retiring aircrafts starting at a minimum bid price of $299,000.

Feast your eyes on Lady Penelope and whatever totally boring nickname that was bestowed on this Finnair Airbus A340, which is pretty much the minivan of planes.

place your bid. As of this writing, not a soul has been brave enough to waste that kind of cash on a hunk of lightweight metal.
