

AIRBALTIC PILOT ACADEMY'S FIRST STUDENTS START STUDIES

News / Airlines, Maintenance / Trainings

The Latvian airline airBaltic today, on April 16, 2018, began study process for the first group of students of airline's newly established Pilot Academy at airBaltic Training. The first group of 12 students will become airBaltic pilots upon completion of the full-time programme in about two years from now.?

Martin Gauss, Chief Executive Officer of airBaltic: "It is a historic day not only for the students but also for airBaltic. Launching our own Pilot Academy has been a major step in securing that more Baltic pilots will join our airline in the future."

Pauls Cielis, airBaltic SVP Flight Operations: “We are the first to receive certification for the Integrated Airline Transport Pilot course in Latvia. New training aircraft are ordered and studies have begun. Going forward, we will continue to deliver the most modern and professional education to our students. airBaltic Training Pilot Academy is the only programme to offer high calibre pilot training, which will lead to employment as an airBaltic pilot. We are proud to create this unique opportunity for Latvians and our Baltic neighbours.”

The application process for the fall group of airBaltic Training Pilot Academy will begin in June 2018. For more information and applications, please visit: <http://airbaltictraining.com/pilotacademy/en/>.

In February, airBaltic Training ordered three single-engine DA40 NG training aircraft and one twin-engine DA42-VI training aircraft from Diamond Aircraft for the airline's newly established Pilot Academy at airBaltic Training with the option of adding another eleven planes from Diamond. In addition, airBaltic Training has also ordered a DSIM flight training simulator. Deliveries of the aircraft are expected to begin in May 2018.

airBaltic serves over 70 routes from Riga, Tallinn and Vilnius, offering the largest variety of destinations and convenient connections via Riga to its network spanning Europe, Scandinavia, the CIS and the Middle East. For summer 2018, airBaltic has introduced eight new destinations from Riga to Malaga, Lisbon, Split, Bordeaux, Gdansk, Almaty as well as Sochi and Kaliningrad. In addition, airBaltic launched a new direct route connecting Tallinn and London. A complete schedule of airBaltic flights can be found on the company's website at www.airbaltic.com.
