Pre-Purchase Inspections on McDonnell Douglas MD-80 and Gulfstream G550

Two aircraft have found new owners after Pre-Purchase Inspections at AMAC Aerospace in Basel, Switzerland.

A McDonnell Douglas MD-80 arrived in February in Basel, to undergo a Pre-Purchase Inspection. In addition, AMAC's maintenance team performed a 6-month check before re-delivering the MD-80 to its new owner.

On a privately-owned Gulfstream G550, AMAC's Gulfstream Team carried out a Pre-Purchase inspection and changed the registration number. The aircraft has been released on time.

Completed in Time: Airbus A340 underwent a 12-month check

At the beginning of March, AMAC Aerospace re-delivered an Airbus A340 after having completed a 12-month check including 'OOP' (Out of Phase) tasks. AMAC's skilled technicians also carried out a landing gear overhaul on the Head-of-State aircraft. It is a complex task, therefore AMAC's technicians are continuously trained for using the latest equipment and being up-to-date with new procedures. The project was completed on time and the Airbus A340 was released as planned.

Completed Annual Inspection on Two Airbus Aircraft

AMAC Aerospace are happy to announce the re-delivery of an Airbus ACJ330 from a new customer in March 2022. The privately-owned aircraft underwent in Basel, Switzerland a 1A, 2A, 3A maintenance check.

An Airbus ACJ319 of an existing customer was released mid of March after an annual maintenance check. The privately-owned ACJ319 underwent a 1A and 2A check in Basel, Switzerland.
