EASA APPROVES AIRBUS MAINTENANCE SYNCHRONOUS DISTANCE LEARNING

News / Maintenance / Trainings, Manufacturer

To support Airbus customers and offer them the opportunity to optimise this period of travel restrictions, Airbus Training Services has set up and obtained EASA-approval for a "Synchronous Distance Learning" solution for theoretical certifying maintenance courses and non-certifying courses. Customers will be able to participate to local examination sessions where Airbus stations are available – with the support of its Field Service Representatives who are trained and registered to be an "examination invigilator".

Once travel restrictions are lifted and whenever practical training is required, the training effort will be limited to organising these practical sessions. In short, this distance learning solution allows customers to perform theoretical maintenance training locally, led by a real-time remote Airbus instructor, to receive local examination sessions managed by a local Airbus invigilator.

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.

09 AUGUST 2020

ARTICLE LINK:
https://50skyshades.com/index.php/news/maintenance-trainings/easa-approves-airbus-maintenance-synchronous-distance-learning

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.