News / Business aviation, Events / Festivals, Maintenance / Trainings, Personalities

During EBACE 2017 we had an opportunity to meet and talk to AMAC Aerospace Mr. Bernd Schramm, AMAC Aerospace Group Chief Operating Officer. Let us share some points of our discussion:

Q. Mr. Schramm, our usual question – what was your way to the aviation business ?

A. In fact I can't tell you that it was my dream from the very childhood. Not at all. I was playing football, considering that as one of options of my future. In the same time engeneering was something that always provoce my interest. So when I understood that footbal won't be my job, the choice was obvious – engeneering. Later it became more specific – aeronautical engeneering.

Q. What would you say regarding the situation on the market – is it out of crisis, stable, growing ?

A. I am in this business already for quite a time. If I am not mistaken, each 6 to 8 years industry i stalking about crisis. But it comes and goes, the market is always getting up. So I have let's say phylosific point of view on the crisis. It is important to keep working, keep improving services and wait for the market to stabilize. The only market that I would say is getting up slowly is the whide body market.

Q. What is the percentage of completion, refurbishment and maintenance in AMAC Aerospace ?

A. I would say at the moment it is 50/50. 50 percents represents maintenance services we offer, and same volume of completion and refurbishment services.

Q. What is more important for your clients – the price or the quality ? What makes them choose AMAC Aerospace ?

A. Definately the quality. Of course price is always an important factor in tenders and offers. But we have reputation of delivering our clients TOP quality services, so once again – the quality of what we do is for sure what makes our clients make a choice on our behalf.

Q. What is important in your everyday job, what is special leading your team ?

A. I am trully enjoying the fact that each and every project is a king of challenge, a new beginning, a new goal we have to achieve. Client is giving us a task and the team work is making is real. We are always improving what we do, finding new solutions, setting up new quality standards.

Thank you Mr. Schramm!
