FLYBE CONFIRMS EXPANDED WINTER SCHEDULE

News / Airlines

Flybe, Europe's largest regional airline, has confirmed today (25th August 2015) an expansion of its 2015-16 Winter schedule to include two brand new routes between Edinburgh and Liverpool, and between Southampton and Dusseldorf, the return of a direct daily service between Exeter and Glasgow, as well as added extra frequency on 20 existing routes that includes the return of conveniently timed, twice daily flights between Southampton and Guernsey.

Flights are available for booking now, effective for travel from 25th October 2015 to 26th March 2016, with one-way fares from £24.99 including taxes and charges.

Paul Simmons, Flybe's Chief Commercial Officer, comments: "We've added further capacity into our winter schedule on some of our most popular routes and are pleased that we have been able to also add some new routes to better serve and reflect the needs of our passengers. This undoubtedly demonstrates our commitment to providing unrivalled regional connections to accommodate both our business and leisure passengers throughout the 2015-16 winter period."

In total, Flybe's extensive winter programme features 104 routes with a choice of up to 1,425 flights a week.
