News / Airlines

flydubai and Cyprus Airways announced the launch of a new interline agreement, designed to enhance international connectivity and provide passengers with seamless access to an expanded network of destinations across Africa, Asia, the Middle East and the GCC. The partnership enables customers to travel on a single itinerary with coordinated baggage handling and streamlined transfers via Dubai International (DXB), one of the world's leading aviation hubs.

Under the agreement, passengers travelling with Cyprus Airways from Larnaca will gain convenient one-stop access via Dubai to a broad range of flydubai destinations, including Almaty, Astana, Colombo, Dhaka, Jeddah, Kathmandu, Krabi, Kuwait, Langkawi, Malé, Medina, Muscat, Penang and Riyadh. The agreement significantly strengthens connectivity options for travellers departing from Cyprus, offering efficient onward connections through Dubai to key business and leisure destinations across flydubai's growing network.

At the same time, flydubai customers will benefit from enhanced access to Cyprus through Cyprus Airways' operations to Larnaca, supporting tourism, trade and business travel between the country and multiple international markets.

By partnering with Cyprus Airways, we offer a more seamless travel experience, access to new destinations and the confidence to travel across a broader network with greater ease. Partnerships like these are essential to ensuring we continue to meet the evolving needs of customers and create more free flows of trade and tourism across the markets we serve.”

Cyprus Airways Chief Executive Officer, Thanos Pascalis, stated: “This partnership with flydubai represents an important step in Cyprus Airways’ strategic development and reinforces our commitment to expanding connectivity for our passengers. Through Dubai, travellers from Cyprus will benefit from seamless access to a diverse network of destinations across the Gulf, Asia and Africa.”

Since 2009, flydubai has launched more than 100 new routes that previously did not have direct air links to Dubai. Passengers travelling on the airline’s modern and efficient fleet of 97 Boeing 737 aircraft can enjoy an elevated travel journey in Business Class and Economy Class. Featuring internationally-inspired menus and hours of immersive entertainment, passengers can look forward to flydubai’s lie-flat seats and a personalised service in Business Class, while Economy Class passengers can enjoy optimised space and comfort. The interline agreement is now in effect, with bookings available through the respective sales channels and authorised travel partners of both airlines.
