HAINAN AIRLINES TO DEPLOY 787 DREAMLINERS ON ALL ROUTES TO NORTH AMERICA

News / Airlines

Hainan Airlines (HU) said Tuesday it will deploy Boeing 787 Dreamliners on all routes to North America in the winter schedule starting this Sunday.

The Haikou-based carrier has released its capacity plans for the new flight season (Oct. 25, 2015-Mar. 26, 2016). Domestically, the carrier plans to launch over one hundred of flight services and increase the frequency of some routes to meet travel demand.

Internationally, the airline will operate all its North American flights using the Boeing 787 Dreamliners, providing customers with an excellent travel experience.

In addition, the airline will increase its Beijing-Phuket service to daily to facilitate travelers between the two nations. In the winter schedule, the airline will continue to operate its international and regional services newly launched in the summer schedule, such as Chongqing-Rome, Beijing-San Jose, Shanghai Pudong-Seattle/Boston, Beijing-Prague, Haikou-Bangkok, Haikou-Macau, etc.

Hainan Airlines said it keeps upgrading its products to create perfect travel experience for travelers.
