DELTA AND VIRGIN ATLANTIC TO FULLY CO-LOCATE AT HEATHROW TERMINAL 3

News / Airlines, Airports / Routes

Delta Air Lines will operate exclusively from London Heathrow Airport's Terminal 3, effective September 14, 2016. Delta and Virgin Atlantic will now operate from the same terminal making it easier for customers to manage their travel plans including any last-minute flight changes.

Delta will transfer its Atlanta, Detroit, Minneapolis, Salt Lake City and Philadelphia flights from Terminal 4 to join its services to New York-JFK, Boston and Seattle that already operate from Terminal 3.

"Our joint venture with Virgin Atlantic is all about making it easy for our customers to connect between our airlines and having our Heathrow service under one roof is crucial to delivering a synched-up, more convenient service," said Nat Pieper, Delta's Senior Vice President – Europe, Middle East and Africa. "This enhances the travel experience for customers flying from Heathrow, one of the world's most important international gateways, and marks a major milestone in our joint venture."

In total, Delta will operate 11 daily flights to eight U.S. cities nonstop from Terminal 3. The two airlines' summer schedule includes up to 40 daily nonstop flights between North America and the U.K., of which, 28 operate between London Heathrow and the U.S.

Erik Varwijk, Executive Vice President, Commercial, Virgin Atlantic, said: "We are looking forward to our joint venture partner, Delta, joining us in Terminal 3 at London Heathrow. Once the switch
