

TURKISH AIRLINES LAUNCHES A NEW VENICE-ISTANBUL ROUTE

News / Airports / Routes

Turkish Airlines is to launch flights from Venice Marco Polo Airport to Istanbul Sabiha Gökçen Airport.

As well as the already existing 24 weekly flights connecting the Venezia Marco Polo Airport to the Istanbul Atatürk Airport, the airline will inaugurate a new connection to the Sabiha Gökçen Airport, located in the Asian side of the city. The new flight will be operated daily increasing the total number of weekly connections between Venice and Istanbul to 31.
