

AVJET ROUTING CELEBRATES 10TH ANNIVERSARY

News / Business aviation

Avjet Routing International Trip Planning is celebrating its 10th anniversary with new branding and sharpening its profile as an international trip planning company. Since it was founded in 2005 Avjet Routing has delivered the highest standard of service and a new level of expertise to its clients and the aviation world.

"Over the last 10 years, Avjet Routing has remained strong throughout the many changes in the economic climate," said Moe A. Edlibi, general manager and founder of Avjet Routing. "I attribute our success to two things: First, our customer orientated service, namely tailoring and customizing our services to the needs of the clients. Second, we continually look for ways to optimize our operations in every single area of the business; if you don't go forward, you go backwards."

"The last ten years were a decade of success and we developed Avjet Routing into a global player in the aviation business " , states Sam Wanli, ceo and founder of Avjet Routing. "With our new branding we want to sharpen our profile as an internationally acting provider of trip planning services. Our clients are based around the world and the new branding underlines our global presence."
