

CLICK AVIATION NETWORK TO EXHIBIT AT MEBAE 2018

News / Business aviation, Events / Festivals

Click Aviation Network will be attending its second Middle East and North Africa Business Aviation Association (MEBAE) show from the 10th to 12th of December 2018.

The company will present the Click Omega Platform and its expanding trip support services while continuing to build new connections with industry professionals.

Click Aviation Network serves as a bridge for the aviation industry through the Click Omega Platform, connecting aviation professionals through Artificial Intelligence technology in a transparent and user-friendly way that increases efficiency across all operations. Our networking concept is the cornerstone for communication without limits, served through a ubiquitous digital platform.
