

HONDA AIRCRAFT COMPANY ANNOUNCES STRAIGHT FLIGHT AS NEW AUTHORIZED SERVICE CENTER

News / Business aviation, Maintenance / Trainings

Honda Aircraft Company announced an update to its Authorized Service Center network for the HondaJet. Starting January 25, 2026, Straight Flight will serve as the ASC for HondaJet aircraft based out of the Northwest service region, including Wyoming, Colorado, and Utah. Straight Flight LLC is based out of Centennial Airport, in Denver, Colorado and has over three decades of experience and a proven reputation for service reliability. Straight Flight's operations in Denver include 55,000 square feet of hangar space and 20,000 square feet of back-shop and support areas. Their maintenance team includes more than 50 skilled professionals supporting a high-volume of aircraft maintenance operations.

Honda Aircraft Company Senior Vice President & Chief Commercial Officer Amod Kelkar commented: “We are excited to be partnering with such an experienced and capable maintenance group to support our growing HondaJet fleet. We are confident that this move will serve to strengthen our global service network and enhance the HondaJet customer experience. We look forward to working with Straight Flight for many years to come.”

HondaJet service in the northwest territory was previously handled by Elevate Aviation Group. The term of Honda Aircraft Company's agreement with Elevate ended in January 2026. Straight Flight's location in Denver is anticipated to provide enhanced convenience for HondaJet operators in the region. Honda Aircraft Company's global service network supports operators around the world with 21 facilities across North and South America, Europe, Southeast Asia, China, and Japan.

Honda Aircraft Company's Authorized Service Network currently includes the following providers in the United States:

- Honda Aircraft Service Center – HondaJet East
- Des Moines Flying Service – HondaJet Midwest
- Straight Flight – HondaJet Northwest
- Hillsboro Aviation – HondaJet Pacific Northwest
- Banyan Air Service – HondaJet Southeast
- Cutter – HondaJet Southwest
- Mather Aviation – HondaJet West Coast
