arrival of the Global 8000 demonstrates our ability to deliver world-class management solutions for the most sophisticated aircraft in the industry. We are already seeing growing interest from other Bombardier owners, and with our established Bombardier maintenance capabilities, we are confident in providing them with the same excellence and assurance that has long defined Metrojet."

Captain Stewart Borg, Metrojet's Director, Flight Operations, stated: "The Global 8000 sets a new benchmark in capability and performance. Successfully integrating such a technologically advanced aircraft into our fleet required precision, collaboration, and strong expertise. I am immensely proud of our Operations team, whose professionalism ensures that Metrojet continues to lead with safety and excellence."
