

“As the market leader in business aviation engines we continue to collaborate with the world’s top maintenance providers. We were impressed by the in-house expertise and international network proven by RUAG Aviation, as well as its reliable commitment to quick response and turnaround times and its ability to incorporate last minute upgrades,” says Andy Robinson, Rolls-Royce, Senior Vice President – Customer Services.

RUAG Aviation looks forward to strengthening its partnership with Rolls-Royce and to continually expanding the support and services it can provide to its customers.
