

BAA AND LUXAVIATION JOIN HANDS AGAIN AT ABACE 2018

News / Business aviation, Events / Festivals

The Asian Business Aviation Conference & Exhibition (ABACE) is taking place in Shanghai on April 17 to 19. Business Aviation Asia Ltd. (BAA) and Luxaviation Group, which announced a new strategic business alliance at ABACE last year, will once again join hands to exhibit at this year's event.

Co-hosted by the National Business Aviation Association (NBAA), the Shanghai Airport Authority (SAA) and the Asian Business Aviation Association (AsBAA), ABACE is Asia's premier business aviation event. Since its launch in 2012, ABACE has been held annually at Shanghai Hongqiao International Airport, showcasing the latest business aviation products and services to thousands of the region's top business leaders, entrepreneurs, wealth creators and other purchase decision-makers.

At ABACE 2017, BAA and Luxaviation announced a strategic partnership. BAA is one of the largest and most influential business aviation operators in Asia Pacific, while Luxaviation is one of the world's largest business aviation operators. The collaboration will see customers benefitting from the enhanced privileges of a premium global infrastructure and service culture of a truly global business aviation organization, providing charter, FBO, maintenance, aircraft management and aircraft transactions with operations in Europe, Asia, Australasia, Africa, the Middle East, the Caribbean and Latin America.

BAA and Luxaviation cordially invites you to join us at ABACE 2018, and we look forward to celebrating another decade of success with you in the years to come.

09 APRIL 2018

ARTICLE LINK:

<https://50skyshades.com/news/events-festivals/baa-and-luxaviation-join-hands-again-at-abace-2018>