

COOKING LAKE AVIATION ACQUIRES AN ALSIM ALX SIMULATOR

News / Maintenance / Trainings

ALSIM is extremely proud to announce that Cooking Lake Aviation, based in Edmonton, Canada, has bought an ALSIM ALX simulator. The ALSIM ALX provides up to 4 classes of aircraft—from single-engine piston, twin engine piston, twin turbine up to medium category twin jet. The device is designed and approved for ATPL, CPL, MCC in compliance with all current regulatory standards. The ALX offers advanced technology simulation equipment tailored to all specific training requirements. In addition, it has a proven track record for cost-effectiveness and helps save numerous aircraft hours.

Shane Goode, Cooking Lake Aviation's recruitment officer, explains why they have chosen ALSIM: "As a rapidly expanding flight school, Cooking Lake Aviation found itself in need of a modern, realistic and versatile FSTD, capable of performing a wide range of training functions. The ALSIM ALX was deemed to be the perfect fit for us, allowing us to train new pilots in a single-engine platform, all the way to two-crew operational training in our Integrated ATPL program. The professionalism and knowledge shown by our ALSIM partners have given us great confidence in our future success. Cooking Lake Aviation is thrilled to welcome the ALSIM ALX as the newest addition to our fleet."

Dr. Scott Firsing of ALSIM's North America office adds: "We are very glad to welcome Cooking Lake Aviation among our customers and would like to thank them for their confidence. We are looking forward to installing the simulator. "

Located approximately 15 minutes east of Edmonton out of the Cooking Lake Airport, Cooking Lake Aviation (CLA) offers professional and rewarding flight instruction on a variety of modern aircraft.

Cooking Lake Aviation employs a team that holds a distinct passion for the aviation industry and strives to create a learning environment. Flight operations are supported by an enthusiastic and student-orientated dispatch staff, ensuring operations are effective and efficient. Cooking Lake Aviation offers weekly ground school, a flight training simulator, and private briefing rooms.
