News / Maintenance / Trainings

ALSIM announced the sale of an ALX to Sky Services Flight Academy, based in Italy. The ALSIM ALX provides up to 4 classes of aircraft—from single engine piston, twin engine piston, twin turbine up to medium category twin jets (generic B737/A320). The device is designed and approved for ATPL, CPL, APS/MCC in compliance with all current regulatory standards. The ALX offers advanced technology simulation equipment tailored to all specific training requirements. In addition, it has a proven track record for cost-effectiveness and helps save numerous aircraft hours.

“The ALSIM ALX with its flexibility, and reliability is the right tool to keep raising the quality of our training through efficiency and safety” according to Clemente de Rosa, Managing Director of Sky Services S.p.A.

“We are very glad to welcome Sky Services Flight Academy among our customers and would like to thank them for their confidence. We are looking forward to starting a successful cooperation between our two companies.” adds Nicolas de Lassus, Alsim Sales Account Manager.

Sky Services is an approved organization that operates in accordance with the EASA regulations. Its Flight Academy provides training for pilots at all levels: from simple leisure to professional pilot licensing. Always aiming to the highest standard of quality and safety, Sky Services Flight Academy’s aim is to train pilots in a highly professional atmosphere, using exclusively latest generation aircraft all equipped with glass cockpit and owned by the Academy. Lessons are held both in Italian and in English so to be accessible to all users.

Sky Services also offers to its cadets, the opportunity to fly all over the Italian territory, and obtain full ground assistance at the FBOs of its network spread around the country. Headquarters are in Naples city center while the Academy has bases at: Capua (LIAU), Naples (LIRN), Milan Bresso (LIMB) and Brindisi (LIBR). Latest generation aircraft, teachers’ high professionalism and passion for flying constitute the strength of our school.
